

Lappet-faced Vulture

The Lappet-faced Vulture is a large and powerful bird that lives in parts of Africa and the Arabian Peninsula. It has an overall dark body plumage. The head and neck are both pink, the shade of which depends on the mood of the individual bird. Males and females look alike.